Order cycle

In a foodcoop, members order food together from suppliers of their own choice. The process of ordering consists of the following steps:

- 1. Prepare
 - 1. Update information about suppliers and articles.
 - 2. Choose which articles can be ordered or not (when needed).
- 2. Order
 - 1. Orders open.
 - 2. Members do their orders (during a number of days, usually).
 - 3. Orders are closed, and are sent to the suppliers (possibly automatically).
- 3. Receive & distribute
 - 1. Orders are delivered at a central location. There they're counted, and any changes are entered.
 - 2. Distribute articles over members
- 4. Finalize
 - 1. After a final check, the administration of this order cycle is closed, and members are charged their final amounts according to what they received.
